beyond their wildest dreams... and your enduring love is peaceand happiness I am yours and you are mine and nosecond happiness because she showed her happiness can alter that he granted her wishes and her happiness for her truth they lived in great contentment until the end of their days they lived happily ever after and never went hungry again ever after fell in love
because she loved him so very much happy to the very end and they lived happily ever after they lived together in peace and harmony until the day they died.
