Example

Jack had been lost in the rainforest for hours, when suddenly. out of the undergrowth, stood an old, abandoned house. It was hidden like an animal observing its prey before it pounced. Waiting. Watching. Wondering. Trembling with anxiety, Jack stepped closer and closer and closer. The door, slightly ajar, creaked open as though it had not been used for a very long time. Inside was one large, empty room. A pungent stench filled the air. A few sunbeams forced their way through the broken, wooden shutters. Then Jack saw it - A SKULL!
